The financial services and products we offer

We are authorised to provide personal advice and arrange transactions on the following classes of financial products:

- Superannuation and retirement savings account products
- Securities
- Managed investments including an investor-directed portfolio service (IDPS)
- Margin lending facilities (standard)
- Government debentures, stocks or bonds
- Deposit products
- Life insurance products including investment and risk products.
- Managed Discretionary Account (MDA) investment programs
- Miscellaneous financial investment products limited to MDA services

We can also offer financial services and advice following retrenchment or redundancy and on social security/Centrelink entitlements.

Your adviser may only advise on, and deal in, the financial products for which they are authorised and that are included in our Approved Product List (APL). Your adviser cannot advise you on, or influence you in favour of, a financial product which:

- is not on the APL,
- is part of any arrangement where your financial adviser can make changes to your portfolio before obtaining your consent unless they are specifically authorised to do so, or
- is a product on which they are not authorised to provide personal advice. The Adviser Profile (Part two of this FSG) outlines the classes of financial products on which they can provide advice.

Your adviser may also conduct separate business activities such as accounting, mortgage advice and other services not provided under our licence. We are only responsible for the financial products and services described in this FSG and on our APL. From 1 July 2014, new regulation requires your financial adviser to declare whether they are a registered (tax) adviser and the tax (financial) advice service they are authorised to provide.

The process we follow to provide financial services

Your adviser acts as our Authorised Representative when providing personal advice to you and therefore we are responsible for any advice given. Your adviser's primary duty is to you, the client. Your adviser is under an obligation to act in your best interests in relation to any personal advice provided to you (known as the 'best interests duty').

Your adviser is authorised by us to give you personal advice, but in order for them to do so, you need to provide them with information about your needs, goals and objectives. If you choose not to provide your adviser with this information, any advice they provide may not be appropriate to your needs.

Providing your adviser with instructions on how to buy or sell financial products.

You may specify how you would like to give your adviser instructions, for example, in writing, by telephone, fax or other means. However, in some instances your adviser will require your instructions to be in writing. For your own protection, you should not:

- sign any blank forms or documents
- appoint any financial adviser to act as your attorney or authorised signatory
- nominate any financial adviser to receive your statements without you also receiving a copy, or
- give your adviser unclear or misleading instructions or false information.

Other documents that you may receive

In addition to the FSG and Adviser Profile, your financial adviser may provide you with the following documents:

- A Statement of Advice (SoA) or Record of Advice (RoA). Before your adviser provides you with any personal financial product advice (personal advice), they will collect information about you, your objectives, financial situation and needs. The SoA will set out the advice and the basis upon which it is given. You may then decide whether or not to act on it. It will also set out information about our remuneration and your adviser's remuneration (including any applicable commissions) and disclose any associations or relationships which might reasonably be expected to influence them when providing the advice. Any subsequent personal advice that is provided to you will be documented in an ROA, provided there has not been a significant change in your personal circumstances or the basis upon which the initial advice was provided. Copies of all advice documents will be retained on your client file and you may request a copy by contacting your adviser.
- A Product Disclosure Statement (PDS). If a particular financial product (other than securities) is recommended by your adviser you must also be provided with a PDS issued by the product issuer. The PDS contains information about the benefits, risks and other features of the product, which will enable you to make an informed decision about whether to purchase the product.

How we, our advisers (and any other relevant persons) are remunerated

Both we, and your adviser receive remuneration from:

- service and advice fees paid by you
- commissions and other payments paid by product providers
- other benefits.

Service and advice fees paid by you

Your adviser will discuss and agree our fee structure with you before we provide you with services. The types of fees you can be charged are listed below. You may be charged a combination, or part of, any of these fees.

Personal advice

- Fee for advice - your adviser may charge fees for the preparation and implementation of our advice. These fees will be based on your individual circumstances, the complexity of your situation and the time it takes to prepare personal financial advice for you.
- Ongoing advice fee - your adviser may charge a fee to provide ongoing portfolio reviews and/or for the provision of ongoing services. This fee will be either a set amount, or based on the amount of funds under our advice, and/or the time involved in reviewing your portfolio.

We will discuss these fees with you prior to giving you the advice.

General advice / execution only instruction

Where general advice or an execution only instruction is provided, you may request particulars of remuneration (including commission) payable to us and your adviser, directly from your adviser. Please refer to the Adviser Profile for information about any portion of these fees that we may retain and please ask your adviser, or us, if you require further information about any of the fees and charges that you pay.

Payment methods

Our fees are either invoiced to you directly, or deducted from your investments, or a combination of these methods. Where it is debited from your investments, it is normally referred to as the Adviser Service Fee. In most instances you will be able to select the method of payment that suits you best. We will discuss and agree the method of payment with you before we provide you with services.

The specific fees and services that you will pay for will be set out in your SoA or other advice documents, your fee disclosure statement or client service agreement.

Your current options

- You may choose to be charged a financial planning advice fee that is based on the time spent preparing your SoA (or other advice document) and is dependent on the complexity of the advice, or
- You may enter into a service agreement with your adviser that covers items such as ongoing advice, newsletters, annual reviews and portfolio valuation reports. You and your adviser should discuss the services to be included and the fee that you will pay. Alternatively, it will be set out in the service agreement provided by your adviser either before, or at the time, you are presented with your SoA.

Commissions and other payments paid by product providers

If you implement a financial product through us, we may receive payments in the form of initial commissions and/or ongoing commissions from the financial product providers. These commissions are included in the fees and premiums you pay for the product. This is not an additional cost to you.

Investment products held pre 1 July 2013

We may receive initial (upfront) commission from the product provider for additional amounts invested in products you held prior to 1 July 2013. Generally, the commission will be a percentage of the amount you invest (may be up to 5.5 per cent) and may vary from product to product.

We may also receive ongoing (trail) commission from the product provider on a periodic basis for the duration of your investment. Details of such commission (which may be up to 1.1 per cent) will be set out in your SoA.

Investment products held post 1 July 2013

For most products with an investment component entered into after 1 July 2013, initial and ongoing commissions from the product provider will not be paid to your adviser. Information about any variations or exceptions will be provided to you.

Risk insurance products

We may receive initial commission from the life insurance company for risk insurance products that you purchase and we may also receive ongoing commission when you renew your policy. This commission is taken out of the premium that you pay and is not a separate charge to you. Applicable risk insurance commissions are included in the Adviser Profile and will be detailed in your SOA.

No commission is payable on group insurance policies held within your superannuation that commenced after 1 July 2013. For group insurance policies within superannuation that commenced prior to 1 July 2013, commissions may be received.

Commissions may also be received in relation to retail insurance policies held within superannuation irrespective of the date of commencement.
